

Thomas Aquinas – Readings

1. Theology, Faith and Reason (p.109-141)
2. Proof of God's Existence (p.243-256)
3. On Human Choice (p.551-564)
4. Logic of the Incarnation (p.749-770)
5. What is a Sacrament (p.771-785)
6. Exposition of Paul's Epistle to Philemon (p. 811-822)

This is about 100 pages of reading – about 30 pages a week. If you feel led and enjoy Aquinas then read another section and come and share with us (who will probably not have read that section).

Remember that we will be taking a very dramatic left turn (into radicalism) with our next writer (Martin Luther). Aquinas is the quintessential and best example we have of scholasticism – logic and learning – but even he reached an “end to his writing and reading” – more next time!